

How CWA members will see an increase in federal taxes

Limits the ability to deduct property taxes and completely eliminates the ability to deduct state and local taxes.

Eliminates tax deductions that help families pay for education expenses, including the deduction for interest on student loans.

Will directly tax the value of employer-provided education assistance that tens of thousands of CWA members use.

Limits the ability to deduct your mortgage interest.

Wipes out the ability of families to deduct their medical expenses, including nursing home care.

Any employer-provided child care benefit will be taxed, and assistance from employers to help CWA families adopt a child will also be taxed.
